Dear Trustees,

On behalf of American Ballet Theatre, I am pleased to extend our sincerest thanks to you and the Rockley Family Foundation for its generous gift of $1,000 in support of ABT's general operations. We truly appreciate the Foundation's generous support, which enables ABT to continue providing the highest quality classical ballet to audiences across the world.

The beginning of 2013 marks a time of enormous excitement at ABT. The Company is back in the studios and has started rehearsing for the upcoming tours to Hong Kong and Beijing, China. The three-week tour will feature repertory works in both cities, Romeo and Juliet in Hong Kong, and Swan Lake in Beijing. This will be followed by another exhilarating Spring Season at the Metropolitan Opera House. Beginning on May 13 and continuing through July 6, the season will feature the highly anticipated World Premiere of Artist in Residence Alexei Ratmanský's Shostakovich Trilogy. Choreographed to symphonies by Dmitri Shostakovich and featuring scenery and costumes by a distinguished team of designers, this premiere promises to be a season highlight. The season also marks the Company Premiere of A Month in the Country, which is rarely performed outside of its creator's company, The Royal Ballet, and a brand new production of Le Corsaire, featuring new sets, costumes, and lighting.

As we embark upon this thrilling new season, we are especially grateful to the Rockley Family Foundation for helping to make ABT's accomplishments possible. Should you have any questions, or to inquire about the 2013 Spring Season, please do not hesitate to contact me at 212.477.3030 ext. 1107, or via email at cstephnic@abt.org. Thank you again for your support and generosity.

With sincere thanks,
