Dear Mr. Rockley,

Because of the generous support of community partners like you, the Arvada Center has emerged as one of the largest multidisciplinary arts centers in the nation.

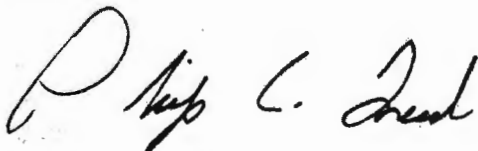

We are sincerely grateful for your 2016 in-kind contribution of loaned pianos, piano moving services, technical support and other ancillary rentals. These instruments and the support services you provide help make it possible for the Arvada Center to train and educate more than 7,000 aspiring artists and performers annually.

According to IRS regulations, donors are not allowed to declare the value of their donation based solely on our acknowledgment. However, the Arvada Center would have had to expend approximately $28,630 for the above items donated as an in-kind contribution. These dollars saved are then put to use to support other programs at the Arvada Center. Please consult with your tax advisor for more information on the tax-deductible amount of your in-kind gift.

With only 50% of our revenue coming from ticket sales and tuition, the Arvada Center relies on both financial and in-kind donations to support our programs that engage nearly 300,000 visitors each year. You can take pride in knowing that your in-kind contributions to the Arvada Center impact thousands of people with our live theatre, concerts and dance, free gallery exhibitions, children's theatre and hundreds of classes.

Once again, thank you for your generous support and commitment to enriching our community with art, culture and educational programs.

Best regards,

Philip C. Sneed
Executive Director
