

Dear Rockley Family:

As we embark on a new year and a new semester, I am reminded to look back and see how far God has brought us. So many wonderful things happened in the year 2016, much of which would not have been possible without your support!

Staff and students alike have returned from the break refreshed and ready to take on the new year. With the second half of the academic year underway there is a sense of finality beginning to set in for many on campus. This year's seniors are working hard to finish out their undergrad careers strongly. And when they enter into life after graduation, our world changers will be a force for the kingdom. Your support helped many of these students receive the necessary skills to pursue their dreams and careers.

For the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, the new year is a chance to improve, a chance to change, and a chance to grow. The new semester is also a chance for them all to make the most of your gift. Carpe diem: with the prospect of a new semester, the students are given a new opportunity to seize the day and to put their best effort forth thanks to your support.

As I look back on 2016 and look forward to 2017, I am ever thankful to our Lord for His provision, guidance, and favor on Colorado Christian University. Thank you again, for your gift to Colorado Christian University. I pray that God would bless you immeasurably more than you could hope or imagine in 2017.

Warm Regards,

Kathy Pettit
