Dear Mr. Rockley:

Thank you for your gift to Georgia State University. You've provided resources that will enhance students' experiences. You have also shown Panthers their dreams and potential are worth investing in. Your generosity makes a difference, a meaningful one.

Contributions from supporters like you have powered Georgia State's rise to being the national leader in success initiatives, a place where students from all backgrounds can succeed at the same high levels.

A majority of Georgia State students come from Pell-eligible households. More than half come from historically underserved populations. Many are the first in their family to attend college. Your gift helps the university provide students the resources they need and eliminate barriers to their success.

To assist with your 2022 tax reporting, the statement at the bottom outlines your charitable gift received by the Georgia State University Foundation.

Thank you again for your generous gift. A college degree can change a family's economic trajectory for generations. The lift you've given Georgia State students is immeasurable, its impact limitless.

Sincerely,
